November 30, 2004

NCVA REPORTER - November 30, 2004 In this NCVA Reporter: Events 2004 Northern Virginia Conference on Nonprofit Management – Dec 3-4, 2004 VNHELP Participates in Holiday Peace Fair – Dec 4, 2004 Funding Opportunities CDC Grant for Drunk Driving Intervention Support for Relatives Acting as Parents Funds Address Poverty and Disenfranchisement Funds to Help Underserved Children and Families Support for Environment, Human Needs, Arts, and Education Funds for Civil Society, the Environment, and Ending Poverty Partnership for a Nation of Learners National Youth Court Center Mini-Grants Johnson & Johnson/Rosalynn Carter Institute Caregivers Program Announces $100,000 Hurricane Relief Fund Jobs/Internships 2005-2006 Postdoctoral/Visiting Scholar Fellowship Program in Ethnic Studies at UCLA Wellstone Fellowship for Social Justice Chief Executive Officer - Sacramento Region Community Foundation (California) Tips/Resources Getting Committed Support to Promote an Organization Making Health Communication Programs Work: A Planner's Guide Communicating Health: Priorities and Strategies for Progress News The Le-Tran Family (Washington Post) Culture Center Still a Vision Without a Site (Los Angeles Times) Winning At All Costs (Houston Chronicle) For Some Minorities, Business Success is Relative (Seattle Post-Intelligencer) Following lead of ex-columnist isn't way to go (Mercury News) Vietnamese Community Repays Kindness by Aiding the Homeless (Los Angeles Times) * EVENTS 2004 NORTHERN VIRGINIA CONFERENCE ON NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT ”Synergy In Our Sector” Friday & Saturday, December 3-4, 2004 Fairfax County Government Center 12000 Government Center Parkway Fairfax, VA 22035 “Synergy In Our Sector” is the theme for this year’s conference featuring nearly 30 outstanding workshops, numerous exhibitors providing a wide array of products and services, and peer exchange groups. . . all designed to help nonprofit organizations throughout the Northern Virginia region improve the quality of the services they provide. The conference will engage hundreds of nonprofit board members, executive directors, program managers, and other key staff members by focusing on management issues related to: • Advocacy • Board Governance • Communications • Evaluation • Financial Management • Fundraising • Human Resources • Leadership • Nonprofit Law • Research • Service Delivery • Small/All Volunteer Nonprofits • Volunteer Management The 2004 Northern Virginia Conference on Nonprofit Management builds upon the Conference for Community-Based Nonprofit Management: Best Practices for Continual Improvement conducted by the Fairfax County Department of Housing and Community Development in March 2003. As a result of the successful 2003 conference, the County and other public and private sector organizations joined together to collaborate on the 2004 Northern Virginia Conference for Nonprofit Management. This year’s conference expands the geographic reach of participants throughout Northern Virginia and includes a broader range of faith-based, community-based, and other nonprofit organizations. Don’t miss this unique opportunity to ... • Learn what other organizations are doing to get results. • Discover ways to improve management effectiveness within your organization. • Meet professionals with experience in implementing organizational change. Conference Organizers Annandale Christian Community for Action Arlington Street People’s Assistance Network Business Development Assistance Group Clifton Gunderson LLP Fairfax County Government George Mason University Nonprofit Studies Program Korean Community Service Center Virginia Tech’s Nonprofit Excellence Initiative Volunteer Fairfax Washington Council of Agencies For additional information, contact Harriet West, Clifton Gunderson at 301-931-2050 Ext. 766 or email to Harriet.West@cliftoncpa.com . (www.nvcbo.org) * VNHELP will participates in The 22nd Annual Holiday Peace Fair Saturday, December 04, 2004, 11:00AM -